Robert Stoler honored as 'Super Doctor' by Texas Monthly

Local cardiologist Robert Stoler, M.D., F.A.C.C., is among the seven cardiologists from Cardiology Consultants of Texas that have been recognized by their peers as outstanding practitioners.

Dr. Stoler, who practices at Cardiology Consultants of Texas' Ennis office, was named a "Texas Super Doctor" by Texas Monthly. Over the past several years, Cardiology Consultants of Texas has been well represented in the magazine's "Texas Super Doctors" series.

"The selection of Dr. Stoler shows that our peers recognize the level of professionalism and high-quality care the cardiologists at Cardiology Consultants of Texas provide to its patients," said Dr. John Schumacher, who is co-founder of the practice and co-chief of cardiology at Baylor University Medical Center.

According to Texas Monthly, its "Texas Super Doctors" are chosen through a poll of doctors and nurses across the state as well as through independent research.

For the past 20 years, Cardiology Consultants of Texas has been providing patients in the Ennis community with the most advanced, thorough and compassionate cardiovascular care available. One of the leading cardiology practices in the Southwest, CCT also serves patients at Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas, as well as clinics in Greenville, and Waxahachie.
