

Doctor recognized by peers

Greenville cardiologist Shyla Thomas High, M.D. F.A.C.C., is among the seven cardiologists from Cardiology Consultants of Texas who have been recognized by their peers. Dr. High was named as one of "Texas Super Doctors" by "Texas Monthly" magazine. Over the past several years, Cardiology Consultants of Texas has been well represented in "Texas Monthly's" Texas Super Doctors. They are chosen through a poll of doctors and nurses across the state as well as through independent research.
